Dear Chief Justice,

Re: Canadian Institute for Advanced Legal Studies – Scholarships 2022 - 2023

I am writing you in my capacity as President of the Canadian Institute for Advanced Legal Studies. As you may recall, the Institute sponsors scholarships to provide recent graduates from Canadian law schools with an excellent opportunity to pursue graduate studies abroad. The Institute's scholarship program continues despite the challenges of the Covid-19 pandemic. Attached is information concerning The Right Honourable Paul Martin Sr. Scholarship and the Paul-André Crépeau Scholarship, formerly known as the French Language Scholarship.

The Right Honourable Paul Martin Sr. Scholarship is awarded for study in the LLM Program at the University of Cambridge. This scholarship is co-funded with the Cambridge Commonwealth European & International Trust, which is the principal channel for scholarship programs at the University. Each year it awards scholarships to a number of postgraduate Canadian applicants, including our joint scholarship for LLM students.

The Paul-André Crépeau Scholarship, previously the French Language Scholarship, is awarded for advanced legal studies leading to the equivalent of a master's or doctoral degree study in the French language outside Canada. In addition to renaming the scholarship after the distinguished professor and legal scholar Paul-André Crépeau, the scholarship's eligibility criteria have been expanded to also allow for a one-year stay within the scope of a doctoral program jointly supervised with a French language university outside Canada. This broadening of the scholarship criteria allows for applicants planning to study in joint doctoral programs offered by French language universities in Canada to be considered for the award.

Your office has been very kind to assist in bringing these scholarships to the attention of potential applicants in the past and we would appreciate it if you would once again post the attached bulletins such that those eligible will be apprised of the scholarship and the application details and deadline. In the event you are aware of individuals that might be interested in applying, please encourage them to do so.

Please note the deadline for applications for the 2022-2023 academic year is December 31, 2021.

If you would like to obtain more information about the Institute's scholarships, you may contact the Institute's Vice President and Secretary, Anne Thomas, at 416-429-3292.

I extend my thanks in advance for your assistance in this matter.

Yours very truly,
